Reservists Urged To Consider Problem Of Moving Families

"Consider the problems before moving." This is the advice being offered families of the newly activated 100th Division (Training), which is scheduled for a year's active duty at Fort Polk, La., starting October 1, 1961.

Under current Army regulations, families of corporals having four years' service and families of higher ranking noncommissioned and commissioned officers who qualify under "Joint Travel Regulations" may be moved to Fort Polk at government expense.

But more than money is involved, division officers point out. Both dependents and service members are being urged to consider these factors:

1. Adequate living quarters should be rented prior to the arrival of dependents at Fort Polk. Otherwise, the families might suffer unnecessary hardships and expenses.
2. Educational facilities should be carefully studied and schooling arranged for children.
3. Members of the division can expect a heavy work load, especially during the first two months. In many cases, the individual will have little opportunity to be with his family as the division prepares to assume its new duties.

4. Since members of the division will be part of the Active Army, individuals are subject to transfer. Although few persons are expected to leave the division, such a possibility should be considered.

"It has been stressed at all levels," noted Major General Dillman A. Rash, commander of the 100th, "that our call is for one year, unless sooner relieved. I'm certain that every 'Centurymen' is carefully weighing all the inconveniences against the expected duration of his active duty tour."

What is General Rash's advice? "One can't make a single statement covering every individual case. I'm gravely concerned about the children of our members and know that everyone recognizes his responsibilities as a parent to provide for his children's welfare. I would suggest that everyone discuss his individual problems with his commanding officer. And finally, all appropriate Army regulations should be carefully read."

A recent "straw poll" of Reservists showed that most believed that a minimum of 60 days would be needed to make all necessary arrangements for the movement of families.

As one sergeant, a veteran of World War II and the Korean War, put it, "We'll be working round the clock those first couple of months. I probably won't have a chance to see the family even if they were living in the Leesville Court House."

Division officers point out that arrangements for moving dependents receive top priority in all planning. Detailed surveys have been made of the area around Fort Polk. All available information on housing, schools, recreational facilities, etc., is being distributed to members of the 100th.

Civilian officials in both Louisville and Des Moines, the two towns nearest Fort Polk, have worked closely with Army personnel to facilitate the movement of families. A housing office will be established at Fort Polk for this purpose.

Dog Poisoner Is At It Once Again

A dog poisoner is loose in Murray again with several more dogs reported as having been poisoned yesterday.

BULLETIN

State Police Detective Hugh Page has been called in on the dog poisoning cases here in Murray. Detective Page will arrive in Murray at 9:30 tomorrow to go to work on the case. Approximately forty dogs, many of them thoroughbreds, have died as a result of the poisoning.

street lost a Dachshund which was a family pet and John Pasco lost one of his dogs. Another Pasco dog is ill.

Dean W. G. Nash's large German Shepherd apparently got some of the poison. He was taken to a veterinarian where the dog is responding well to strychnine treatment.

Approximately 30 dogs were killed in the college area about two months ago with a number of thoroughbred dogs being killed. The last time the dog poisoner went to work he spread short pieces of viener over a wide area, which had been split and dusted with strychnine.

Citizens in the college area have expressed indignation over the incidents and are chagrined and frustrated at the failure to apprehend the culprit.

Many also expressed fear that a small child could possibly pick up one of the bits of meat and eat it.

UNUSUAL COINCIDENCES
Two Middleton women, Mrs. John Murdock, North Avenue, and Mrs. Richard Thiel, Mayflower Dr., who are friends and neighbors, have the same doctor, were guests of honor at the same baby shower, and have husbands who are teachers, have just given birth to sons and are sharing the same room at St. Mary's hospital.

Larry Dale was born September 4 to Prof. and Mrs. Murdock, who had their first child at St. Mary's hospital. Babe Ruth's home run record for the second straight day but they'll have the opportunity to resume the chase in a doubleheader today.

The Yankees' scheduled game with the Chicago White Sox was halted Wednesday night in the New York half of the third inning with Maris at the plate. The Yankees led, 2-1, but neither Maris nor Ruth had contributed a hit to their attack.

With 56 homers in 145 games, Maris has nine games left to reach the record 60 within the 154-game limit imposed by Commissioner Ford Frick. Maris must hit seven in nine games to tie the record officially. The Yankees play 162 games this season.

Here is how Maris and Mantle compare with Ruth's pace: Maris—Games 145, Homers 56, 4 games ahead. Mantle—Games 145, Homers 53, 2 games behind. Ruth—Games 149, Homers 56.

Joey Jay Has Achieved Charmed 20-Game Circle While Pitching Cincinnati Reds To Threshold Of NL Pennant

By FRED DOWN

Joey Jay, who complained that he never knew his status during his career with the Milwaukee Braves, has achieved the 20-victory status symbol coveted by every major league pitcher in his first season with the Cincinnati Reds.

And, along with it, the 26-year-old, 225-pound right-hander from Middletown, Conn., has pitched the Reds to the threshold of their first National League pennant since 1940.

Jay, who never won more than nine games in any single season with the Braves, scored his 20th victory of this season Wednesday night when he pitched the Reds to a 1-0 win over his former teammates.

Jay allowed only four hits and got the run he needed when Darrell Johnson, Eddie Kaso and Vada Pinson singled in the fifth inning.

Jay is the first 20-game winner of the National League season and the first the Reds have had since Evert Blackwell had a 22-8 record in 1947. Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and Frank Lary of the Detroit Tigers are the other pitchers who've reached the 20-mark this season.

Warren Spahn has 19 victories. "I'm glad to leave the Braves because I never knew what my status was with them," said Jay when he and Juan Pizarro (now with the White Sox) were traded to the Reds last winter. "With the Reds, I'll know where I stand."

It was Jay's fourth straight victory over the Braves and it boosted the Reds' first-place lead to 5½ games over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who suffered an 8-2 loss to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The San Francisco Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-2, in the other NL game.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees were rained out, the Detroit Tigers whipped the Kansas City A's, 8-0, the Cleveland Indians downed the Baltimore Orioles, 5-0, and the Washington Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-2.

The Pirates dealt a mortal blow to the Dodgers' pennant hopes with a 20-hit attack that included two homers by Bill Mazeroski and one by Dick Stuart. Mazeroski and Stuart each homered in a six-run eighth-inning outburst that clinched the victory and gave Lefty Harvey Haddix his ninth win. The loss left the Dodgers eight games behind in the won-loss column and three behind in the lost column with only 16 games left to play.

Jim Duffalo had a ball for himself in his first major league start, pitching a six-hitter and driving in four runs with a single and a three-run homer for the Giants. Duffalo struck out six and walked four.

Jim Bunning pitched a five-hitter and Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash homered for the Tigers, who tagged Jim Archer with his 13th defeat. Colavito's 42nd homer of the season equalled his previous high for a single season. Gary Bell's four-hit pitching and Woodie Held's two-run homer paced the Indians as Baltimore paced the Indians as Baltimore 16-game winner Jerry Barber lost his 11th game.

Miss Jane Eloise Williams Becomes Bride Of Harrell Edward Whitnell in Beaumont

Mrs. Clifton Harrell, Mrs. Ona Whitnell, Mrs. Harmon Whitnell, and Miss Frances Whitnell attended the wedding of their grand son and nephew on Thursday, August 31. An account of the wedding which appeared in a Beaumont, Texas, newspaper is printed below. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Harrell and Mrs. Ona Whitnell are the grandparents of the groom.

Miss Jane Eloise Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams, 3960 University, chose a formal gown of white lace for her marriage to Harrell Edward Whitnell, 874 Alabama, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Whitnell of Jasper, Texas, at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Highland Avenue Baptist Church. The Rev. Eugene Dickey performed the double ring ceremony.

Details of the bride's gown were a neckline defined by the design of the lace, long sleeves and a full skirt. A pearl Tiara held the veil of illusion and she carried an orchid on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a cameo, a gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor, Miss Joan Wyninger of Sulphur, and the bridesmaids, Miss Peggy Epperson and Miss Sue Ann Burks, wore identical dresses of pink cotton and pink velvet headpieces. They carried white carnations.

Nuptial music was provided by Miss Mary Carruth, organist, and Leon Rodgers, vocalist.

Baskets of white carnations adorned the altar at which Mr. Williams gave his daughter in marriage.

Byron Lang of Nederland attended Mr. Whitnell as best man and acting as groomsmen and ushers were Keith Wohlford of Daisetta, Jimmy Barnett of Alvin, Willie Williams and Mac Wheat of this city, and Jimmy Whitnell of Jasper.

A reception in the Community Center of Alice Keith Park followed the wedding. Assisting in serving were Miss Joyce Wyninger of Sulphur, Mrs. Jack Johnson, Mrs. Raymond Courts, Mrs. Wilma Pickett, and Mrs. Andrew Roux.

For a wedding trip to Houston and Galveston Mrs. Whitnell wore a white cotton dress and navy accessories. The couple will make their home in the Lamar Tech Apartments.

Mr. Whitnell, who is employed by Matt Racki, consulting engineer, will continue his studies in civil engineering this fall at Lamar Tech from which his wife received her certificate in secretarial science. The law firm of Strong, Pipkin, Strong and Nelson is her employer.

CRASHED BARRIER — With its windshield shattered, the small truck that smashed its way through the Berlin-Durham line from East Berlin awaits the arrival of a repair man in West Berlin. The state-owned vehicle was driven to freedom by Hans Boehm, 22, through a barbed wire barricade. Boehm said he could no longer stand life in Red zone.
